

New Books for Children

Two new works by local author Reeve Lindberg:

Homer the Library Cat

The Day the Goose Got Loose, a hilarious romp with illustrations by Steven Kellogg

Other new books celebrate children as the hero, and a few animals too!

Unspoken, A Story from the Underground Railroad by Henry Cole

The First Drawing by Caldecott Medalist, Mordicai Gestein

Abe Lincoln's Dream, by Lane Smith, a young girl takes a funny romp through the White House with Abraham Lincoln

Marvelous Mattie, How Margaret E. Knight Became an Inventor, by Emily Arnold McCully about a young girl who invented something we use so often we take it for granted.

The Legend of the Loon by Kathy-jo Wargin

Up, Up and Away by Ginger Wadsworth, a great little book about Spiders

Good sports, a funny look at games by the best poet for kids, Jack Prelutsky, and drawings by the great Chris Raschka and

Diary of a Wombat, by Jackie French, a book guaranteed to make you laugh out loud over this silly and wonderful marsupial from the land down under.

And to celebrate Heroes, we have many wonderful new biographies of many folks that will help your children grown into the hero you know they are. Some examples are: Pocahontas, Helen Keller, Abe Lincoln, King Tut, Thomas Jefferson, White House Kids, Paleontologists, and Baseball's Best.

For Adults, in addition to current fiction and biography, we are also getting many books to celebrate, along with the Concord Historical Society, the Centennial of the Last Log Drives on the Moose and Connecticut Rivers. Come in and check them out!

Remember our summer hours are Tuesday and Thursday 3 to 6, and Saturdays 9 to Noon. Just as the summer brings more days of sunshine, we are extending our hours to help us get all the books catalogued into the computer, and better yet, more time to enjoy our great patrons.
